Your Yearly Relationship Report

This report will give you an in-depth look at some of your personal relationships over a period of time, usually one year, but sometimes longer depending upon what you requested. Each person in your life that you wanted to know about has his or her own section that tells how he or she will relate to you in the given time period. Thus, if you had asked to do three different people for a certain year, you will have a section for each person. In a similar manner, all the people for one particular year will be in the same major section. If you have more than one year, there will be chapters in this report based upon each of the years. The years go by your age. So, if you are currently 45 years old and had asked for two years of reports, there will be a chapter for Age 45 and one for Age 46, and within each of those chapters will be a section for each person on your list of Friends that you wanted your report for.

The Connections between You

The method that we use to determine influences and compatibility between people uses what we call Connections. These connections usually have planetary names, such as Mercury, Venus, Mars, etc. But some have other names like Displacement, Result, or Environment. In all cases, the connection between you and someone else is derived from their relationship to you in the current year's cards. Every connection will be explained as they occur so you do not need to understand this system in order to benefit from this report.

These yearly influences between you and those you know are important. You can find that one year you are very compatible with someone and then it changes dramatically after your next birthday. Another common example is where someone is playing a prominent role in your life but then just sort of fades away as the year ends. Both these examples can be explained by the yearly relationship influences. It is definitely helpful to know what these influences are ahead of time. It is good, however, to keep in mind that you have life-long influences with everyone in your life, which are, in most respects, more important and more powerful than the yearly influences that come and go. This report intentionally does not touch upon these but you should be aware of them nonetheless. If you would like to learn more about your life-long connections with others, you can read the book, Love Cards, or get a regular relationship report where you got this one.

Regular verses Underlying Card Connections

Sometimes you will have connections with someone that come from a connection to them as an Underlying Card. This can be often or not at all. Underlying Card connections are not quite as strong or powerful as the regular connections. As you read about the connections you have with each person on your list, keep this in mind. Having a regular connection with someone is a much greater influence and gives a much stronger probability that the two of you will have some important interactions in the given year. There is no way to determine exactly how less significant the Underlying Card connections are, but they are. We hope you enjoy this report. We think you will find it insightful, accurate, and helpful in your understanding of the influence of others in your life.

Relationship Connections for Tom Cruise Age 44 with Katie Holmes born 12/18/1978

Katie is an Environment Card to You This Year

Our yearly Environment Card is always perceived as a blessing of some sort. Anyone that we have a lot of involvement with who is also our Environment Card for the year will appear to us to be a source of many good things. Katie is likely to be supportive in many ways to whatever you are doing this year, making this one of the best connections you can have in a yearly reading. The exact nature of how Katie gives to you and supports you will be defined by your specific kind of relationship. All relationship types benefit from this influence, however. In business, Katie could be a source of much financial gain and support. This can also occur in marriage. If Katie is your spouse, this would be an indication of them making more money this year. In a friendship relationship the kind of support you receive from Katie could be of many kinds. Its always good to express your gratitude for such people in your life. That gratitude causes the blessings to mulitply.

Key Phrases for this Connection

Katie is a helpful and benefical influence in my life this year on many levels. I am grateful for the help, support, and protection Katie affords me this year.

You are Moon to Katie This Year

(This connection comes from an Underlying Card and thus is less impactful than the regular connections for the year.)

During this year, one of your cards falls into a Moon position in relationship to Katie. First and foremost, this connection guarantees a certain amount of compatibility and intimacy. You will enjoy talking with Katie and find that you have a greater interest in herself than usual. This connection also puts you in a somewhat feminine position in relationship to Katie. What this means is that she may feel like leading you more and that you will find yourself following herself in certain ways. This should be fine for both of you, however, as the closeness you share has mutual rewards. Sometimes a person who we are Moon to can show us new directions for our life, or open up new possibilities for us. In return, we give them our attention and appreciation and by doing so we have a beautiful exchange of energies. Regardless of what sort of relationship you have with Katie, it will benefit from this connection if you both simply allow the energy to flow. Your lifetime connections with Katie will also play a role in your relationship as they always do. But this connection brings a period of greater ease between you and heightened communication along with the possibility of greater intimacy.

Key Phrases for this Connection

Katie is opening up new vistas for me for which I am very grateful.

I enjoy my communications with Katie.

I am encouraged to offer my support to Katie in whatever way seems appropriate.

(There are 3 of these connections.)

Katie is Venus to You This Year

(This connection comes from an Underlying Card and thus is less impactful than the regular connections for the year.)

The fact that Katie falls in a Venus position in relationship to you this year is a very good sign that the two of you will enjoy being together this year in whatever capacity you find yourselves in. This connection guarantees a certain amount of compatibility and ease of being together and would even help mitigate other connections between you that may be difficult.

Katie may also play an important role during your Venus period. Check the other cards present at that time to determine just what that role may involve. Mostly it depends upon what kind of relationship the two of you have. If this is a romantic relationship, you could not ask for a better influence for love, marriage or romance. This connection would be considered to be a good omen for future development. If this is just friends, family or business you will discover that things go more smoothly between you and that you enjoy being with Katie more than usual. Whatever activities the two of you may be involved in, things will tend to go more smoothly and you will enjoy the time spent together. In business, this connection also tends to cause more financial success in activities you are both involved in. No matter what the exact nature of your relationship with Katie, you will find that things will go smoother between you and that you are more likely to have fun together.

Katie is Jupiter to You This Year

(This connection comes from an Underlying Card and thus is less impactful than the regular connections for the year.)

Having Katie as a Jupiter influence in your cards this year is a good omen for you. Jupiter is generally considered one of the best influences and benefits all areas, but especially finances. Depending upon the nature of your relationship with Katie, this could have several desirable outcomes. First of all, this connection helps with how well you get along with Katie this year. She will feel more gently disposed to you this year as well as encouraged to be helpful to you. You may find that the two of you seem to click more and seem to have more in common. If the nature of your relationship allows it, Katie will be financially helpful to you. If she is either a spouse or a business partner, you could see some definite financial rewards coming to you through their actions or support. For example, if Katie is your spouse, this connection is a very strong indicator of them having a lot of financial success, which ultimately benefits you at the same time. She could even offer sound financial advice or direction. Since she is essentially Jupiter to you this entire year, follow their direction whenever possible and make sure you let herself know that you are appreciative of her efforts. Your other cards in your Jupiter period may indicate specific areas that Katie's involvement may benefit you. And she will mostly likely have some important role this year during your Jupiter period. Even if Katie is just a friend or family member their influence will be beneficial to you in many ways this year. All in all, this is a connection to be thankful for as will definitely help you in one or more important ways.
